My guest this week is Winston De Freitas and he's one of the managers here and on board managers on Batteau Cruises London and Winston welcome to the program. Thank you, thank you, nice to have you here. Now it is a wonderful cruise and now I've just done the the premium cruise I suppose right by the window and you can sit on here and have a beautiful two and a half hour cruise at lunchtime as we're doing with the jazz in the background as you're hearing and tell us a bit more about the the whole experience.

Well okay so we've got Batteau London Cruises which is a great way to see London a lot of people come to London and don't get to see their one end to the other you go to London you see one specific thing but this is a fantastic way to see pretty much the whole of central London's you go from one end of London down to the other this cruise will take you from Westminster and like we've traveled today we've traveled all the way up to the London barrier which is great so you get to see London at the from a different perspective than you usually would do. How many people does this boat see? Right so this boat will seat maximum you're looking about 340 comfortably that is squeeze you can get a few more on which we've done in the past usually with big functions and what have you but 340 is about your maximum very comfortable we've got front and back we also have a viewing deck upstairs which is really nice especially in the warmer weather you can sit upstairs and enjoy the cruise and see much more London that way but sitting inside is nice as well because you've got you know good good views from inside of the craft. And tell us about the dining experience it's fabulous the food is just wonderful and great value for money as well.

Yeah absolutely I'll just prepare everything freshly on board so you're not gonna have a bunch of microwave food on here we've got three four chefs on any one cruise and they'll do your starters your main desserts pretty much to order and they're very good with accommodating dietary requirements gluten-freeze and your you know vegetarian whatever so we've got quite a good venue and a lot to choose from. And during the cruise today we're on the luncheon cruise with this great jazz band but I believe there's all sorts of entertainment options available. Absolutely we do also an evening dinner cruise where we have another live jazz band a slightly different music format a little bit of dance music and what have you again it's about we've got a two and a half hour evening cruise we do two cruises a night two different boats we've got this boat the Harmony another boat the Symphony slightly bigger which is very nice we also do coming up in the summer we'll also have an afternoon tea which is just a jazz pianist and that's quite a nice experience as well so we've got a few different things with different music formats for everybody's choices.

Well that's a great idea here in London to have an afternoon tea on the cruise on the river whereas you do usually do it in a hotel but that gives a fabulous extra dimension. Yes absolutely some people the afternoon tea is a little bit shorter and if you just want to do something quickly and it's a great way to spend an afternoon just you've got a couple hours or hour and a half and you just want to you know do something slightly different like you say not being in a hotel but just being actually outside and on the river fantastic way to do it. Now Winston DeFries here on Batteau Cruises London I believe you've probably had some pretty famous people as your guests along the way.

Yeah you get a lot you try not to mention names but you do get them from time to time again we don't mind if you mention names but it must be great for them because they come over and maybe they might be movie stars or actors or whatever and they just love to just relax take it easy. I mean it's a great place for them to kind of melt into the crowd if you like you know they don't get rushed and they sit down and they can relax and enjoy it just as much as everybody else so they appreciate it a lot. Oh we've got a birthday celebration in the background there which is great so the band which is everyone and it's very nice to have a birthday on some Valentine's Day which we're having.

Yeah we've got birthdays we had proposals last night we had proposals on board which was really nice thankfully all of the partners said yes so that was a good thing we didn't have to stop and let anybody off Yes some of the great sights that we see as we go past some real highlights of London. Yeah you get to see the obvious things Tower of London Westminster but also on the very also get to see things like St. Paul's Cathedral we've got very good view of these buildings from there we go through places like Canary Wharf which is really nice and also some of the historic little places that you wouldn't normally see some of the little pubs and along the river that if you were just walking you wouldn't know they're there but with this cruise you get to see a lot of these little tiny hidden away places so it's very good. And Winston how can people find out more about Bato Cruises London online?
