

SKI TV® interviews rugby union player Iain Balshaw MBE. [youaretube.com]

My name is Iain Bolshaw, I played rugby between 1997 to 2014 and I played in the back three projects. Well, I do various projects but one in particular, that's why we're here today. I work with Iain Delegge and Stefan Rullo for the Stations de Ski.

It is an organisation where we play in six different ski resorts in the Alps, in six days with 30 ex-professional rugby players and 30 amateurs. The professional way to describe it is we take everything very seriously, we're there for the rugby. The unprofessional way is that we are there to party with our mates and act as though we are 16 years old.

Not being able to participate in this sort of event, I would never have been able to, one, learn how to ski and two, discover the amazing areas in the Alps. We are at Val Tignes, Le Clusard, Le Minuir, Val Morel, Chateau, this year we're going to Meugev. So we get to, we're very, very lucky, we get to go to some of the most incredible ski resorts in the Alps.

Ski all day, play a little bit of rugby and then video app racing in the evening. They all have their positives to be honest, there's not one ski resort that I can say is better than that. Everyone is very accepting of us.

We all go there, as I said, different ski resorts every day. Guys from all walks of life, all different countries around the world are there to participate in the tournament that we put on. And it is just genuinely for families, children, adults alike, it's just a fabulous event.

You can go to tournoirethecstations.fr and you will find everything you need to know. Or just type in snow rugby and I'm sure it will be the first on the list. Hello, my name is Iain Bolshaw, I'm an XXX rugby international, I am here supporting SkiTV.eu.
