

MEGHANFOTAFLOEDIT

Travel Radio Australia and we're broadcasting from Brisbane Australia this week and we're with Megan Forbes who's the Director of Sales and Aggressive Canadian Friendliness, that sounds great, from Photoflow.com and Megan welcome to the program. Thank you it's a pleasure to be here and so wonderful to meet you Geoffrey. Thank you and welcome to Australia I know it's your first time you were telling me for this conference in Brisbane and tell us a bit about yourself first of all and we'll get on to Photoflow after that.

Absolutely so I've been a pretty avid traveler my whole life I'm I'm very fortunate in that way I've been to over 30 countries and Australia boxes off the sixth of seven continents and so this is a really exciting experience to be both here and part of the arrival show that's going on but outside of travel and my company Photoflow I love yoga I love beaches and I love walks in the forest and that is pretty much where you'll find me travel is so much about you know experiences and people and in a way some hustle and bustle and in my downtime I just like to completely disconnect. Great and Photoflow which is F-O-T-A-F-L-O how did this company come about you started it what was the whole concept? So about 17 years ago one of our founders was a videographer for adventure sports around the world and he realized that all of this experience was happening but people weren't walking away with photo memories of it now it's 17 years ago fast forward to today you can't go on a tour without somebody snapping a selfie or handing a guy a phone and saying hey can you take my picture and somewhere along the line we really recognized that those photo memories are the most valuable keepsake from tours that are happening and might be the most underutilized asset that tour operators could have and so what it was really an iteration of understanding how people consume and share media and developing a product that helped operators offer photos as a value-add part of the experience streamline and automate the delivery and then really leverage those memories on the back end to turn into long-term relationships with guests encourage referrals and word-of-mouth marketing it's a fantastic system because we all do that when we go to things like extreme rides and stuff they now offer you as and it's pretty normal where people say do you want video of yourself or photographs of yourself afterwards and and that's pretty normal now and it's great to see that you're in that space and and tell us some of the companies you're dealing with around the world. Sure and it's actually interesting because it's really shifted it's not just the high adrenaline adventure tours or experiences that photos are being offered at we've seen a shift to things like food tours, city walking tours, boat tours, jet ski tour like you name it if you have an experience worth remembering we want you to be a part of actively capturing memories for your guests and gifting those memories to your guests and some of the businesses that we work with here in Australia we've just started working in Brisbane with Story Bridge Adventure Climb we also work with Madagarab Zip and Climb Perth they're here we work with Oz Jet Boat and Thunder Jet Boat in Sydney Harbour those are the ones off the top of my head but I know there's a few more.

And tell us about your operations in Canada you're based where in Canada? So I'm actually in a little town somewhere between Toronto and Niagara Falls our whole team is based in southwestern Ontario we're remote we're a small but mighty team but our clients are operators globally I would say that our largest footprint right now is in the United States lots in Hawaii and the Caribbean and we're growing in the Australian market for sure. It's great to have you here in Australia and the thing is tell us about come of your I suppose you get to travel all around the world and with with PhotoFlow and we're talking to Megan Forbes from PhotoFlow which is F-O-T-A-F-L-O tell us about some of your standout things that you've done in the past a couple of years. I would say coming to Brisbane has actually been a highlight I think part of that is because my bucket list of just stepping foot of every continent I have only Antarctica left but flying in and seeing the Gold Coast out the window was absolutely beautiful surprisingly that's some of my favorite experiences well it's when the flight is ending right especially a long-haul flight and you can just see your destination out the window I think that that's a really exciting part of travel but I also climbed up Mount Kuta and looked out the top and so I was proud of myself for making it to the top of that.

I think another thing is whale watching tours in Canada we have a number of wonderful whale watching tours on the west coast we actually work with most of the five-star tour operators out there and those are incredible experiences and finally I would say whitewater rafting when I'm looking for a little bit of adrenaline and a little bit of fun that's enjoyable too. Yeah it's amazing experiences and I suppose when you're meeting with your partners you get to experience all their things that they offer too which is a fabulous thing. Well I'm actually gonna go swimming with humpbacks next week so I'm really stoked to do that.

That's great now Megan how can people find out more about photoflow.com well it's photoflow.com but on your website you've got all sorts of partner opportunities and experiences and things like that. Yeah the website is full of good information including a meeting link book a demo and one of our team it will be either myself or one of the team members is really happy to chat with any operators about their specific goals I mean we can think of photos yes that's important to deliver photos but what they can add in terms of value for your business in terms of word-of-mouth referrals more reviews tips for your guides that's really where we can dial into what's important for you so I would suggest reach out let's have a one-on-one chat. Great Megan welcome to Australia once again so glad you're loving it here and thanks for being on the program.

I love it I think Australians are much like Canadians only with better sense of humor. That is true yes thank you. Thank you.
