GREGLAMARCHEEDIT

Travel Radio Australia and we're here in Caen in France at the luxury golf travel market and I've run into a very interesting guy Greg LaMoche from SAS new golf stars in France and Greg welcome to the program. Thank you, thank you for having me on your channel. Thank you so much Greg and tell us about first about yourself how long have you been involved in golf and and how did you get involved with the SAS new golf stars? Actually it's a long story I will make it short I've been playing for 20 plus years and that was my deep passion all my free time was golf evening was golf weekend was golf and after a few years in banking and consultancy I thought okay let's let's switch let's do something else so two years ago I found this magazine this guide so golf stars is a guide we are rating of places from one to five stars we rate everything the course the practice area the clubhouse the environment the respect of ecological norms so we take everything into consideration and it was for sale two years ago a guy from my golf team told me yeah it's for sale the guy is going to retirement I'm interested I was looking for something so I said okay let's try a discuss and he told me yeah that's not easy you will see golf industry is very special especially in Europe apart from UK but if you if you go to continental Europe that's not the main spot people are looking for so it can be difficult but every day I speak with golf directors golf managers I speak with golf players every day is my passion so I enjoy it a lot actually and I travel a lot so I'm gonna meet with some people here everywhere in Europe maybe in Japan next year so yeah it's very pleasant well that's a wonderful thing isn't it you've combined your work with a unbelievably fantastic lifestyle because you would get to see some of the most brilliant golf courses in the entire world and destinations at the same time yeah I'm kind of lucky but I'm not the only one in the team of doing this so I spend a lot of time managing managing the company but I've got people working for me as well visiting golf courses so we share the prison part we do a lot of film features as well so we are lucky to stay and tell stories about places that some people don't know about so the first one we made actually was a small links in Brittany and the architect was Ari Colt same as part rush so we made a comparison and a lot of French people just told us I didn't know that there's a link in France like this a few holes are very similar so we highlight them with a drone and cameras okay okay I will play this whole number seven is very similar to number 12 oh yeah we share we share the passion and we are lucky to experience this kind of destination and we are meeting with wonderful people as well actually that director is a very good player he's he was teacher before in a small school he changes his life as well is and many people in the industry were like this doing a job and quit everything for the passion yes it's a it's a great thing to do to combine your passion with you with your work and you're creating brilliant content too along the way with your drones and all that sort of thing and that's really fascinating too yeah actually I'm very lucky because friend of mine he's video maker and he's very good actually so I've got a very good price because we have friend for a long time and also it was very easy to change our magazine was paper for ten years and we switched to digital only two years ago and the change was a bit of a bet for us but because of him because of some photographers we are working with the switch was easy because we have a relationship and when we are on the place like the one we've made not so far from here last year it was on real the challenge was big because we had to make two videos we had we didn't know the place at all but because we know each other everything is going fast we can produce very fast and the clients the golf are very happy with what we do it's a brilliant system and in Australia of course but in New Zealand we have some fantastic golf courses and it would be great for you to come down and and do your reviews down there I wish I wish one day I can go to Tahiti in New Zealand that's one of my how we say bucket list golf yeah I would be very pleased to go there I said my next destination are going to be mainly Europe maybe Japan if I can come to Australia and New Zealand to see some great places I would be very happy yes we have sanctuary Cove on the Gold Coast we have Huntingdale in Melbourne there's there's so many great golf courses around Australia and you're speaking with Greg Lemache and Greg Lemache is from SAS new golf stars in France and they review some of the best golf courses in the world and it's a fabulous system and and Greg you're from the Bordeaux area and I was very interested to hear about your local region oh yeah oh well I grew up there me and I was a kid from the seaside I love surfing I love spending time on the on the beach and relax I grew up in this environment now I live in Bordeaux so a bit far from the seaside but I still enjoy a lot to go there and the region a lot of people talk about wine but a lot of about surfing it's a lot of also about the food we are very well known for duck recipes we have a very well known for mushrooms and the wine of obviously isn't very nice but the sightseeing the beaches the countryside is very pleasant very quiet over there and this is what I love if I worked in Paris in big companies for 20 years with my wife we needed to somewhere to to rest somewhere to grab our family and we choose to come back to Bordeaux and yeah it's very pleasant and also we are very lucky because we have a big airport we have one of the nicest golf in France it's a Cabot Bordeaux before it was the Golf du Medoc two very nice golf courses most of the best French players went through this performance center over there so it's very kind of famous in France and so we have very nice installation to train to have a round yes the golf course is telling the land in southwest of France is mostly sand we have a lot of golf courses like headland which is so easier to maintain a very nice view a panorama I don't know how to say in English it's very nice outlook of you and yeah spectacular view yes we are we do and yeah if you come to Bordeaux you can have 20 great golf courses around as well as the wineries yeah what a couple of your favorite wineries there my wife works in the wine industry so I'm very lucky I can try the best one we have in France my favorite obviously will be the one she is working in it's Chateau Iqem it's a white wine the taste is amazing and the longer you you keep it the greatest you get that's amazing wine and also for red wine maybe one of my favorite is not so famous it's a palm roll near Saint-Emilion it's a Malbec grape based wine so look I forgot the name it's in my cave I've got two bottles I love it it's not so expensive but I love this wine and that's a great thing about being here in France because even the supermarkets have such an amazing selection of wine under 10 euros which is about $15 Australian you can get some of the best wines in the world well so I have to tell my story about this because I traveled a lot I lived in UK for two years I lived in Japan for one year I traveled in South America and when you go abroad it's very difficult to get the best French wine I mean I went in Japan I was I could find some bottles with a French flag on it you taste it it's like vinegar you shouldn't try this please if you if you see any bottle with aluminum cork you know forget about it this group up yes forget about that one that's not good wine if you want a proper wine may make a little bit of study try to get a nice wine and actually French are not so easy to get as a good one it's not easy to get if you go to any country you can have a very nice South African wine you can have a very nice Australian wine California New Zealand as well and it's easy to find some which are really good for French is a bit more preserved it will cost maybe a bit more abroad but so you have to dig because yes look chloranet if you want to try an easy one from Bordeaux chloranet and this one is a bottle is 26 euro maybe abroad it will be 32 or 34 it's not that expensive yeah that's about 26 euros about $38 which is which is pretty reasonable for a good bottle of wine in Australia and it is a very good one you can compete with your good wine in Australia because you go you make good wine as well yeah after that if you want to try something amazing yeah you can go with Margaux Chateau Margaux one of the best I've tried in my life maybe I thought I should I belong so that was amazing yeah you can this is like 500 or 600 euro a bit out of the range of some of our listeners but no problem you know who knows but I GTM this is a great event and I'm sure you are having a great time here definitely I came here last year for the first time organization is spot on I mean they are very good everything is well prepared you've got good label everywhere to see where you have to go the opening party was great we had it we had a fun time yeah as a living party on Thursday is amazing as well every day you've got animation but you've got talks every two hours with some experts of the market very interesting there's a golf place I'm looking for golf places so places that I meet here always good you got many from everywhere Japan, Mauritius Island, UK, Germany everywhere in three days you got the chance to make good business and meet some very interesting people and with a number of people you meet you're gonna make something.

And how can people find out more Greg, Greg Lemache from SAS new golf stars online? On our website on golfstars.com you can have 800 plus golf courses rated on our guide and we are opening the guide for every Southern Europe so we're gonna be 2,000 golf places rated before the end of 2027 that's our main target for the guide and our magazine is in French and English mostly oriented French our written content is in both languages our videos with YouTube and meta Facebook and Instagram our videos are mostly French so if you understand French please have a look and we are reaching about 350,000 golfers every year and yeah that's that's what we do and usually we take very good care of the quality of the content we make to be as the level of the golf that are here one of the first editorial we made last year it was with Trump International in Scotland with La Asinda golf with we made a one with Meer Kliffen we say Meer Kliffen. Yeah this is a good content written for every languages or English and for videos we are mainly oriented to the French audience I mean French speaking so Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Canada we've got 15% audience from Canada and he is in French about golf courses everywhere in Europe and we try to give golfers the desire to go somewhere we try to tell a story so we are in between the glossy magazine and influencers we are doing something in between so as we do now I invite people we have some guests on the channel we do interviews but on the course okay that's we're really live then yes the idea is to share the feeling of being there having a nice time in the domain on the golf course making some challenge sometimes we have one which I'm quite proud about we tried to block the record of the golf course in one near Paris it was minus 11 and we've done minus 11 so that was fun with a DP World 2 player just sometimes he's just talking about the place or resort so I invite someone like an athlete or a TV person from the French television and we go somewhere he's invited and he's saying about what he feels to be there and we talk about his story and his career as well so we bring a lot of stories and we keep that for 40 minutes and we usually we do 35 percent average watch time on YouTube so it's between 15 minutes and 16 minutes watch time average so which mean a lot of people could see the 30 minutes so we are quite proud about that it was a better we know we were only paper and we became digital and it is working very well well thanks so much Greg for being part of the program and thank you for hanging out with us we all have a great time here at IGTM in Cannes and congratulations on on your fantastic organization well thank you very much for you I wish to see you on the party tomorrow definitely I'll be there I'll be there and once a glass of French wine is involved it's all it all becomes a lot of fun yes well thank you for your time I must go to my next meeting merci bien merci
