SWINGLINEEDIT

Travel Radio Australia, we're at the International Golfing Travel Market here in Khan on the French Riviera and I've run into a very interesting fellow here at Juano San Gia Merino. Can you say your name for us? Hi, my name is Juanco San Gia Merino. Oh brilliant, brilliant.

With a Spanish accent. Very Spanish, we love that, we love that and welcome to Australian Radio. Now you're from Barcelona in Spain and you have the JS Swingline which is, I've been finding out about you, you create jewelry for men and women, mainly women, who are into golf and tell us about what you do.

I create the Swingline collection 14 years ago in Barcelona because I realized that golfers don't have anything that can, I want to play golf but I don't have anything to identify that I am a player, okay. The you can wear inside and outside of the game, okay. And really after 14 years I'm very happy with the trust of the general managers in Spain and Portugal too because Swingline, thanks Swingline I travel around the world to show the collection.

Beautiful and were you into jewelry before you got into this? I suppose you trained as a jeweler and many years ago and you morphed into this, how did it all start for you? I realized that golfers don't have anything like Swingline. I'm in the business of the jewelry 25 years ago but really it's a John Brown, okay, 14 years ago. Now in Barcelona itself where you're from, this year we had the opening, the finalization of Guido's church, that would have been an amazing experience to be around for that.

I think Barcelona is a great city to visit because you have the sea, you have the mountain, you have different culture to enjoy and many important golf courses like Real Club de Guldur Prat, it's a very important golf course in Spain and Catalonia. And tell us about a couple of your favorite experiences that you can recommend in Barcelona to people who may be coming for the first time. My favorite experience, always you can visit the Ramblas, now it's the most famous street in Barcelona but I really like Barcelona and you can go in the same day and walk to the beach, to the mountain.

For me, my favorite place in Barcelona is Barrego Tico, it's a south neighborhood and that is very important, the Cathedral of Barcelona, very important. On the streets, they have many history in these streets, Barrego Tico. The good thing is about Barcelona, most people there speak English too and it's very easy for tourists to get around too, you have a fantastic transport system there.

With the transport? Transport, yes. I think you have trams and buses and all sorts of easy ways to get around Barcelona. You have the underground in Barcelona, for the long project you have the train and you have the airport, you have the port station for the crisis and Barcelona, really it's a small city, it's in Spain and many people are comparing Madrid and Barcelona but Madrid is bigger you can walk for Barcelona in two days, for example.

Yes, it's very nice. You can drive two hours and you go to the front with friends and you can practice in the sky. Yes, there are ski resorts out there too in Spain, a lot of people don't know that.

Spain, Greece have actually their own ski resorts and people don't know that and they're beautiful up in the mountains, absolutely gorgeous. And what's your impressions of the IGTM here, the International Golf Travel Market? Really, it's my first experience here because this year EGTM opened the EGTM Discovery. I'm as a supplier, I tell myself why not to exceed the swing line.

In two days I'm really happy with the experience because many people come to my booth and ask me what's this? It's the first time I see something like this, so I'm really happy with EGTM. How can people find out more about your beautiful jewellery online? I have my website, jjswingline.com and you can find all the collection, it's translated in English, in Portuguese, in French and Germany, in Spanish, of course. And what are your impressions of Khan here on the French Riviera? It's my first time in Khan and I love the city.

It's amazing, very expensive too. Compared to Spain, yes. Everything's expensive compared to Spain and that's a great thing about Spain because when you're there your money goes a very long way.

Yeah, I agree. In Spain, really, Spain is a cheaper country. I really recommend to people to visit Spain because Spain is big and you can find, in the truth, another people completely different than the north.

It's very nice to visit Spain. Can you say hello in Spanish, in Espanol to our Espanol speakers and listeners in Australia? Thank you very much, gracias, and have a lovely day here in Khan and thanks for being on the program. Thank you so much.
