ARVININDIAEDIT

Travel Radio Australia, we're in Khan in France and I've met a very interesting gentleman, Arvind Jain and he's from Tours for Us India and if you ever dreamed of going to India and many many Australians have, it's on the bucket list for a huge amount of people. Well, Arvind's the man to contact. Arvind, welcome to the program.

Thank you very much for having me on your program. You're based in New Delhi and tell us a bit about what you do. You do golf tours but you don't only do golf tours, you do a lot of other things as well.

Yes, that's correct and you know as everyone knows that India is not just about golf, it's like a lifestyle destination. We have the culture, we have history, food tours, yoga, massage, wellness. So anybody who's looking forward to travel to India is also looking forward to experience these things.

We certainly have recently in last couple of years had great amount of golfers and tour operators interested to come and play in India. All over there's some of wonderful courses. As you are aware, just about three days back, Rory was there in India and he was playing for the championship course and not only him, there are many other top players like Arun Rai and they're all over here.

As of now, as we speak, there is Ladies European Tour happening at the DLF, which is my home course in New Delhi. Quite a few Australian pros, ladies pros participating. Whitney Hiller is a good friend of mine.

She comes here. Indian golf has not been very, very popular but it has suddenly in last 10 years, it is really, really developing. There are quite a few new golf courses coming up.

There are so many new airports so there's good connections from anywhere right throughout Southeast Asia, Australia. So many direct flights to a number of cities in India like Delhi, Mumbai. You can get into one of the city and get out of the other and altogether it's a wonderful experience.

People who generally come also Indian golfers now are looking to travel abroad. Earlier it used to be just the Southeast Asia like primarily Vietnam, Thailand but now they're looking to travel to other destinations as we all know that India is one of the countries which still is growing and there is growth and the per capita income is still increasing. This is a huge, huge large community of young Indian between the age of say 30 to 45 and who are always looking to very excited to travel to new destinations that not only for and yes very, very excitingly they're all a lot of them are taking to golf and you see so many approach from India.

The women and the men are doing so well at the world stage. Your company tours for us I suppose you look after a bunch of Australians and take them around and so just a good market for you too. Yes certainly I had been working on this for last two, three years and very happy to say that next year we have quite a few people coming from Australia and New Zealand.

I think there'll be over almost over 200 golfers traveling just to India for a good 15-day tour and they're doing everything. Golf as I said again yoga and doing the food tours and you know heritage. I'm excited to welcome them soon and so are they to come.

I'm sure this would be a lifetime memory trip for them. Did not expect you know that they would the numbers would suddenly go up from you know zero to so much but this is a very, very welcome sign for Indian golf and Indian golf tourism and industry. Also sometimes if they want we even combine the other Southeast Asian countries India and Sri Lanka, India and Maldives, India, Nepal, Bhutan.

So that's we have added advantage and most of these countries are only about an hour and a half to two hours flight from India. That is an additional advantage you can actually visit two countries in one tour really, really good. Now I've had first hand experience of this because I visited an Ayurveda Health Resort which is absolutely fantastic, Somathiram in India, in Kerala actually just near Trivandrum and I suppose that's one of the things that people love to do and if you haven't had experience of Ayurveda it is a total detox and you have the magnificent massages, you have the peacefulness, they banned the internet it's a great thing to do.

Yeah I mean that's a very interesting tourism which is now developed in India called the medical tourism. So people just travel and they put their gadgets aside and they're very happy to do so because you know now the I think more than alcohol detox we need the gadget detox it is what you know destroying our health. These resorts right from north to south they offer large variety of wellness and health packages and people are examined by professionals and medical issues are identified and all through using natural oils and herbs they are cured, no medicine, no allopathy which they like and complete detox and you know some people have sleep disorders and we've been doing medical tourism almost for last 10 years majority you will be surprised to hear almost 50% of the people have always shown interest to come back and about 30% have come back that is a wonderful thing to have.

Just tell us a couple of the great things you can do in the New Delhi area I mean it's the it's the capital of India and and there's so much to see and do there including some of these river tours and all sorts of fabulous things. New Delhi you know it's almost like an ancient city it's been there for hundreds and hundreds of years and lots of lots of history and architecture it's got very very vibrant atmosphere it's not a vertical city it's still a horizontal so now they've combined three four suburbs and they call it the national capital region ancient not only Indian food any cuisine in the world and you will be for choices there's so many be it Italian Orientals and Japanese Koreans of course great golfing there about almost 10 to 12 very good courses to play there's very nearby to Delhi there's very good wildlife centuries bird centuries where people can go a lot of there's something new farm to table or farm to farm experiences where we can go to the farms pluck your own vegetables cook and do a culinary class which we do yoga there are great yoga studios or in the gardens people wear the traditional Indian kurta pajama and do experience yoga with so many professional trained yoga therapists and stuff they learn how to relax their body and mind which is a wonderful experience by itself and yes not last but Delhi is a party place yes I can imagine and I went there for a bit of peace and quiet but it was you know if you want to party Delhi's it definitely it world-class nightclubs world-class restaurants and bars it's Avin Jain and it's tours for us how can people find out more about you online Avin we have our presence we have a website it's called chooseforus.com we are on insta and I'm also on LinkedIn so a lot of people have connected there usually prefer to do tailor-made packages designed to very individual needs because I believe a traveler has each traveler must get that value for money and rather than of course we suggest and then we take what is their interest some people may want to play more golf some people would want to do more of sightseeing shopping there are people who want to do cooking tours and you know learn Indian Indian cooking food there is a great great bit of shopping for textiles and a lot of local handicrafts carpets rugs you know textiles a speciality in different like marble in labor offer the Taj was made so they can see how it was made and carry a lot of gifts back and for membranes and yes all together coming to Delhi you know I would say even if you were to spend a week it would be less because there's so much to do in and around Delhi and the accessibility to nearby cities like Jaipur and Agra is very good now you know almost 80 to 100 new airports being built in the recent past trains are absolutely modernized great expressways eight-lane expressways built very modern transport system available so it's very very comfortable thank you so much Avin for being with us on the program if you're going to India is toursforus.com India and Avin will can help you with everything you need thanks Avin for being on the program thank you very much for having me over and I look forward to welcoming all the people who want to travel to India and make this lifetime miracle tour
