

BE@GOLDCOAST visits Joe Labero's 1000th Genesis Show VIP party on the Gold Coast, Australia [youaretube.com]

It's amazing, you get to meet so much new people and experience new cities and it's always nice to come outside and see all these places. Absolutely, it's the lifestyle, it's just so relaxed and you can be as dressed up as you want to and you can go and put stuff if you want to do that and always sunny and you know I love it. And how did you and Joe first meet? We were jobable booked by the same table at the restaurant and we had the girls met out and he came with the guys and apparently he wants to sit over there so we end up sharing.

And this is in Stoppa? Yeah. Hi, can you give us your names please? I'm Brooke Ashcar and Ellen Sordie. And tell us, what's it like being in the Joe Laverro show? Amazing.

It's amazing, yeah. It's fantastic seeing all the illusions and yeah. So you have to sign something and say that you're not going to reveal anything, right? Big secret.

Big secret. We know nothing. And what are some of the illusions that you appear in or that you're in the background or how does it work? We're actually the dancers in the show so we don't come on when Joe's doing his illusions.

The focus is on Joe but then we come and do our dance routine so it's a bit of a mix show for everyone. We've got dancing and acrobats and illusions so yeah. How did you get into all of this? There was an audition held and hundreds and hundreds of dancers auditioned and they picked 12 of us so we were the lucky 12 from the Gold Coast.

Very lucky. Very lucky. You're a local dancer on the Gold Coast? I am, yep.

I was the one here. Yeah, dancing here for many years. And it must have been just a real rush to get this, to get the big break, yeah? Yeah, of course.

Yeah, it's awesome. It was a very tough audition. It was a two day audition, six hours a day and as I said hundreds of girls auditioned and guys so we're very lucky to get this job and loving every minute of it so.

And does Joe give you any of his little secrets away? Oh no. No. It's very, it's very pretty.

Yeah, it's very talented, Joe. He's an icon in the magic world. He's travelled overseas.

He's done a lot of gigs where all of us strive to do it. Yeah, definitely a massive influence in the world of magic for sure. And tell us about yourself.

You're in the magic world working around professional yourself. Yeah, I do a bit of asking in surface. I'm on TV in a week.

Yeah, Australia's got talent. Give me a good shot on TV. So yeah, we'll see where it goes from there.

Fantastic. And do you have a website where people can follow you? You can check out my Facebook. Is that okay? Just have a look for Jason Gray.

I'm a three legged guy in the picture. So yeah, please add me. Have a chat.

Absolutely. I think it's a good combination of dance and it's magic and acrobats. So it's a good mixture.

It's from 5 to 95. It's one of the shows you can go and see you as a whole family. Instead of going for a concert where the grandmother would not like the music or the small child or whatever.

It's a family show. It's entertainment. Che la Baro.

One thousand shows here on the Gold Coast. Yeah, that's very nice. It's unreal, but it's great.

Now tell me about your... This is like one of your second homes around the world, isn't it really? Yeah, I've lived here for four years in Australia together. I love it. People are so friendly here and lifestyle.

It's easy. They take the easy life. It's wonderful.

Tell me about this show that you're doing now. It's a thousand shows, but I don't suppose it ever gets tired. Or you.

No, this is Genesis. This is like my third show. So about this show, you mean like an Asian themed show? I mean, it's by the way, a little bit like like a monastery and some monks and the gothic mystical world, a little bit combined with like a Las Vegas production with lighting and dancing, acrobats, magic, audience participation.

It's something for everyone between five and ninety five. That's been our goal when we created this. Fantastic.

And congratulations about your world success. I suppose people from everywhere from Sweden, Las Vegas, London, they all know Joe LaBera now. Yeah, working hard.

And that's the only way to be grateful and take the new evening, every night, new show. And I love to perform live. And that's what I've been doing over the years.

Yeah, you can always be better. I mean, that's a drive. Every night is a new performance.

So we see tonight and I'm excited. Very good. My name is Christopher Wayne.

And you've got your own TV show, I believe. We've got a TV series coming out on Vauxhall called More Than Magic, which is Australia's first ever Magic and Illusion TV series. So it's really cool to be able to come here tonight and have some fun with Joe LaBera's thing.

When you first met Joe, was he just a guy working around doing small jobs? And you've been with him through the big things, yes? No, no, no, he was already, he's going to break food pretty young. No, he was already working, but I've been in other countries since I've been 16, so I didn't really recognize him when I was there. But no, he was already worked his way out.

So you didn't have a clue who he was or what he did? At the moment, no. So I was a little bit surprised the first time I got to see his show. I thought he was working for this magician and he introduced himself as a bank, which is his roommate.

And so, yeah, no, it's fun. When I was 12 years old, my grandma brought me here, she lives on the Gold Coast, and she took me to his first ever show on the Gold Coast Illusions. And that's what got me into Magic.

When I was 12 years old, I absolutely loved it. And it's so good to be able to come back, you know, like 26 years old and see Joe doing his thing again. It's really great.

Well, I did. I've loved Magic ever since then, but I learned my first ever Magic trick up five years ago. So I just stopped watching Magic when I was growing up, but it was about five years ago when I was working in a biscuit factory.

I said, if I could have any job in the world, what would it be? And the answer since I was a kid was to be a magician. That's exactly right. I've tried to capture what makes Magic special for me, and I think that's more than just being good at tricks, but sharing either some kind of message or having fun or just connecting with your audience.

So we go out on the streets and we do street magic, and, you know, but it's not just street magic. We try and connect with every single person that we do Magic with. Every episode has a really light motivational kind of message in it just to encourage young people to believe in their dreams and the things they're passionate about.

And it's sort of, I suppose, encouraging people to just let go for that half an hour that they're watching TV, not to try and figure out how the trick's done or how did he do that, any kind of that stuff. Just sit back, relax, and enjoy what's happening, yeah. Hello, this is Joe Labeiro, the illusionist Magician.

You're watching Be at Gold Coast. Hello, I'm Ana Labeiro, and you are watching Be at Gold Coast. Hi, it's Australian celebrity Magician Christopher Wayne here, and you're watching Be at Gold Coast.
