Which is a good thing. Test one, two. Test one, two, three.

Okay. Travel Radio Australia and we're here at Horacava 2025 in Amsterdam and I have a very special guest with me from the Frozen Brothers group, Karpijani. It's that Karpijani? Yeah, it's Karpijani.

Yeah, that's great. And could you introduce yourself for our audience? Yeah, of course. Hi all.

My name is Nadesh Premam. I'm working as a key account manager for our Frozen Drinks division, for the Frozen Brothers group, as Geoffrey mentioned. I will first tell a little bit about Frozen Brothers, what the group is about.

Frozen Brothers group is a manufacturer of frozen drinks in more than 18 European countries. I'm responsible for the sales in the Benelux. And in the Benelux, we also are like the distributor of the Karpijani brand, which is a very well-known Italian soft serve equipment brand.

And the Frozen Brothers group has like two divisions. First division is like the Frozen Drinks division, which I'm responsible for. And there we offer multiple brands.

Here at the trade show, we are with two of our categories, two of our brands, which the first one is Coke and Fanta Frozen. And the other one is Slushy Jaxx. Coca-Cola and Fanta Frozen, that's a real exclusive partnership with the Coca-Cola company, which we are able to sell the product in more than 18 countries.

And then the partnerships, we offer five flavors currently, which is Fanta Lemon, Fanta Strawberry, Fanta Blue Raspberry, Coke Frozen. And here we have a limited edition of our product, which is Fanta Shokata. And currently we are partnering up with big companies such as Burger King, The Efteling, Merlin Entertainment, Parker's Renato's, EG Group.

Besides, we also have an uncarbonated frozen drink brand, which is Slushy Jaxx, which is more focused on like small children and Coke is more like focused on Fanta on teenagers. Yeah, broader audience. Well, this frozen drink market is huge across the world, isn't it? I mean, you know, when you go into a Burger King or whatever, they use your product.

Yeah, they quite use your product. I think Europe is a little bit more in the growing phase of the markets. Of course, like the, which I mentioned, the uncarbonated version is like well-known.

We are here more than, I think more than 15 years, 50 years. Like the carbonated version, which you mentioned, it's, yeah, it's, that's in the beginning phase. We already, we are in now for 10 years, I think.

We have the partnership with the Coca-Cola company since 2015. So it's already 10 years, but it's still in the beginning, still in the beginning in Europe, but the market's potential is huge. And especially when you focus on market like Australia, as you know, there is like common sense and every corner you can get a frozen Coca-Cola or frozen Fanta.

And here that's not the case at this point in time, but we are gaining more market on a daily basis. Of course, in Australia, we have the heat. We have a very long summer and frozen drinks over there are huge.

And the machines are very, very technical and people don't realize how technical and how expensive these machines are. Yeah, they require a one-day installation. So it's quite a complex installation, but it's like a closed system.

So it's more like you combine like syrup with water and CO2 and that creates a product that's a closed system. So if you tap one, it automatically fills the portion you tapped. So that means that you have a constant flow, which ensures that you have a high capacity to sell.

So especially in high traffic environments, it's like a perfect solution because you can tap more than 200 cups per hour. And it must be very funny when the Coca-Cola people come in with their syrup, because that's all top secret, right? Yeah, I think you want to know the recipe, but yeah, even I, I'm working every day, I don't know it. So no, it's top secret, but yeah, it's a mystery.

But yeah, it's very privileged that we can partner up with the Coca-Cola company. And how can people find out more about Frozen Brothers online? They can go to the website, frozenbrothers.com, where they can folks search like on which country they are interested in, and they can find more about all our brands. Wonderful.

So thank you so much for being with us on Travel Radio Australia. And we hope to see you in Australia sometime. I hope to be there.

That's my dream country to go through. So I would love to go there if you would invite me. Oh, of course.

I bet you'll be very welcome, especially with frozen drinks. You'll be welcome with open arms. Thank you, thank you very much for being with us.

Thank you. Thank you as well.
