Travel Radio Australia, and this week we're speaking to a very fascinating gentleman in the UK, Haider Mostafa. And Haider is the head of global partnerships for the travel eSIM provider, and it's a really great product. They collaborate with airlines, hotels, airports, destination management companies, travel agencies all around the world.

And Haider, welcome to the program. Jeff, thank you very much. Hi, everybody.

Thanks for having me on the call today. You sell a wholesale product to these companies, to, as I say, the airlines, hotels, airports, and then they on sale it to the customers. Basically, just give us a bit about your background.

First of all, how did you get into this travel industry, and where did you come from? I've been in the sales background for nearly 20 years. So in retail, retail sales, that's field sales. And obviously, I've been in touch with the director of asylum management for the last, I would say, over 10 years.

I've been working with asylum for just over six years now. They've been working with things such as SMS, roaming, data services. And over the last couple of years, really been focusing on travel eSIMs, because we've noticed that there's a huge potential in the travel market for travel eSIMs, because one of the most things that people look at is the convenience when they're traveling.

And a lot of people, when they are packing the bags, when they're traveling away, they seem to forget that, how am I going to get connected to the internet when I reach to that destination? Have you realized this yourself when you're traveling? Yes, absolutely. Because, you know, I travel a lot as a travel writer. And the thing is that when you get somewhere, you've always got to get a... I was in France recently for about four months, and I was faced with either getting a whole year program, but for four months, it's not really worth it.

And buying an eSIM with maybe 300 gigabytes on it is a fantastic way of getting around this, because you're not up for that whole 12 months when you're not going to use it. And that's why people prefer these kind of products. And it's really a handy situation to do.

And people have been hit really badly in the past with these roaming charges, haven't they? You don't want to go into that situation. You're better off getting an eSIM where you're going that covers the world. And I believe that you guys have that sort of product.

Yeah, definitely. So, going back to, obviously, the Island Management, we're a GSMN member. Started in the UK and now working internationally.

So, for the last two years, our focus has been a lot in the travel eSIMs, because we've seen the potential in it. When we've done our research, seeing what everyone else is doing in the market, it kind of frustrated us, because all we were getting was a no, no, no, no, no. Suppliers were like, this is not possible.

But the whole thing about eSIMs is that the convenience that people do not need to their local SIM card out. They don't need to be looking for a SIM card when they get to their destination. They don't need to get their passport out or do a biometric fingerprint.

So, the convenience of just scanning a QR code. And as soon as they arrive, the airplane lands at the destination. They're connected to the local network straightaway, immediately.

So, it removes all the hassle of trying to fiddle around, trying to get a SIM card, arriving to the destination. So, Jeff, what makes us unique in the market is that we were looking for a white label landing page solution for our clients. But because we couldn't find anything like this, so we decided to create a white label landing page solution in-house, where clients can get a affiliate landing page within minutes at zero cost.

So, that's what makes us different out there in the market. Our platform is very easy, simple to use, and pretty much straightforward. Just give us an overview of some of the companies you're working with.

I know it says airlines, hotels, airports, travel agencies, say in the UK. Yeah, that's right. Yeah.

So, one of the biggest partners that we're working with is Sabre, okay? Yes. Sabre's a huge travel tech company. It took a long time, but we initially got there.

You know, with large companies, it always takes time. But through our resilience and not giving up and always chasing up and following up, we managed to secure a deal with Sabre. Wow.

That's a big deal, isn't it? And that hundreds of thousands of products going out from you guys and Sabre all over the world. Well, it doesn't stop there. We are continuously working with DMCs, tour operators, hotels, travel agents all around the world because our eSIM product covers 190 destinations around the world.

It seems to be one of the fastest ancillary product in the travel market. So, for businesses, because we only operate B2B, so for businesses, this is a fantastic way to generate a new income stream and also be different to the competitors by offering an additional value-added service that helps customers stay connected wherever they travel around the world. And this is the product Travel eSIM, and that's from Zeiland Management.

And I will spell that, that's X-Y-L-E-N Management. If you are an airline, a hotel, a travel agency, a destination management company or whatever, they can get in touch with you at Zeiland Management and talk about all their eSIM needs. It's a fantastic system you have.

Yeah, definitely. A hundred percent. We believe that when we first looked into it a couple of years ago, the market was very, very minimum.

It all comes down to the customers, the end client itself, when they're traveling and what they prefer. A lot of influencers, travel influencers started to actually promote their experience with eSIMs and how convenient it is, especially somebody who's a business person. They need to check their emails as soon as they arrive.

They need to make sure that their work, they want to be sure of... Seamless connectivity. Yeah, that's right. Yeah.

They want to make sure that they're connected to the internet because nowadays you feel kind of naked without having a phone with the internet. That's right. Clients can get an affiliate landing page within minutes at zero cost.

So that's what makes us different than the market. Our platform is very easy, simple to use and pretty much straightforward. I notice you work with Emirates, you work with Yolo Roam, you work with... And it's a travel eSIM product and it's coming from you guys.

So some of these companies you work with are absolutely massive and it must be really fantastic to be connected with those huge brands. Yeah, definitely. We just started, still growing.

We've got a huge vision, a huge potential to spread this out to more and more businesses. And yeah, it's exciting times ahead. People can contact you, Haider.

I mean, we connected via LinkedIn and it's Haider, H-A-I-R, sorry, H-A-I-D-E-R, Mustafa, M-U-S-T-A-F-A. And you're on LinkedIn or people can contact you at Xylon Direct. Can you give us a website where people can have a look and see if they are a B2B business who wants to investigate this with you, how can they contact you? Yeah, so they can contact us through the LinkedIn.

Also, we have a website, Xylon, that's X-Y-L-E-N.net. So they can go directly onto Xylon.net, check out our services and also contact us and arrange a meeting if they wish to as well through our website. And we know that the European summer is coming up and there's going to be a massive amount of people coming from all over the world for the European summer. And this is a great way for you to be connected when you get in there, that particular product, Travel eSIM and look out for it with various partners.

Haider, thank you so much for being part of the program and it's been a pleasure. It's a pleasure to be on the call. Thank you very much, Jess.

Okay, have a great day and thanks for all you do for the businesses with this product. It's a great innovation.
